WELCOME TO YOUR 3DX EXPERIENCE

What is 3DX?

3DX is the clear strategy that underpins every stage of Belroc's project development process, from initial enquiry to close out. This proven, accountable approach sets Belroc apart from its competitors and offers our clients unique consistency and peace of mind.

With vast experience in this sector, Belroc understands that major construction projects with multiple stakeholders present unique challenges. 3DX represents our commitment to simplicity and effectiveness. By following the three principles of 3DX we define the precise need, direct the appropriate solution and deliver a seamless result.

DEFINE...

the precise need

In the DEFINE phase, Belroc conducts an in-depth review to identify the client's specific objectives and challenges. Our DEFINE Team takes a meticulous approach to this process, ensuring a thorough understanding of the brief. As experienced problem solvers, we will devise a robust Division 10 package that is tailor-made to meet client requirements, forming a blueprint for efficiency at every stage of the project.

DIRECT...

the appropriate strategy

The DIRECT phase is all about setting a project on a trajectory to success. Smart project management, construction knowledge and crystal clear communication from Belroc enables us to develop packages that exceed our clients' expectations in terms of both performance and value, whilst minimizing risk. Belroc's experience comes to the fore as we establish relationships with clients, contractors and other trades. Clear communication is vital for managing expectations and achieving maximum performance within the parameters of the brief.

DELIVER...

a seamless result

The DELIVER phase is where vision and expertise converge. Driven by a commitment to industry best practice and facilitated by professional expertise, our installation and project management teams work in synergy with other trades. Strong communication skills and adaptability make Belroc responsive to each individual client's needs, inspiring total confidence right through to debrief. Steered by experienced personnel, this hands-on process is dynamic and responsive to the needs of all stakeholders, inspiring total confidence and delivering a seamless result.
